Financial Management

May 21 – 31, 2024

Course Coordinator : Makoto Naito

<Contents>

The training was designed for managers with basic knowledge of corporate finance to review the business environment of the oil and energy industries and companies which handle fossil fuels in the accelerating decarbonization trend. Through lectures and hands-on training on ESG investment and disclosure, corporate finance and investment decision making, and project finance, the training focused on developing the ability to contribute to business management from a financial perspective.
